

INDIAN OILS DAY USE AREA

OFF THE BEATEN PATH

Funded by the City of Calgary, the project aims to introduce readers to little known, hidden gems in Alberta. This guide focuses on uncovering unique and under-appreciated destinations that offer rich experience away from the typical tourist routes. Whether you're seeking serene natural landscapes, charming small towns, or cultural landmarks. "Off the Beaten Path" provides insight into places that offer a fresh perspective on Alberta's diverse and expansive beauty. By highlighting these locations, this guide encourages exploration and adventure beyond the well-trodden paths, enriching travelers' appreciation of Alberta's hidden treasures.

Funded by:

The Indian Oils Day Use Area is located 38.5 km west of Diamond Valley, Alberta. It takes about 35 minutes to drive from Diamond Valley on a well maintained unpaved road. It is located in the Foothills area with mixed forest and gentle rolling hills.

Calgary Photographic Arts Society

www.cpas-yyc.com
cal.photographic.art@gmail.com

The area has many hiking trails, wild life, wildflowers, waterfalls. There are also picnic facilities. It is a great place for the family to enjoy.